

Dear all,

we are really happy to inform all of you that the final HORTIS educational materials have been uploaded on the web site.

You can download all of them for free:

- e-books - Hortis e-books cover different topics with the aim of diffusing a common and multifaced vision of urban agriculture
- cards - Hortis plastic cards provide easy to read and use information on basics and essential aspects of urban horticulture
- miscellaneous - In this section you can download materials about the educational aspects of urban and social horticulture
- FAQ - the list includes the most relevant and frequent questions posed by gardeners from the different cities and countries to the Hortis team
- HORTIS the movie: a documentary about community gardens in Berlin, dancing gardens in Bologna and a wide range of different green experiences in Spain and Hungary. It must be seen!

The HORTIS project ends at 31 December 2014 but the HORTIS web site and FB page will remain active in order to share inspiring urban horticulture experiences and initiatives from all over EU.

Let's keep our green fingers up!
