

WHO SUPPORTS YOU?

People you can meet abroad and support your safety and rights

A doctor is a person who makes sure that you feel well. For this reason he or she needs to understand if you are ill or hurt. A doctor will be there if you feel sick or fall ill.

A nurse is a person who assists the doctor.

A social worker is a person who helps you in your daily life: finding a place to stay, giving you information about school or other things you may want to know.

A policeman and a policewoman are persons who can help putting things right. For this reason they need to understand who you are and what happened to you. They can tell you what to do or not to do.

A language teacher is a person who can help you learning a new language so that you can talk to people in that language.

An educator is a person who helps children learning and growing up.

A voluntary worker is a person who is willing to help you in your daily activities: doing your homework or going with you to the playground for instance.

A psychologist is a person who makes sure that children understand what they feel. He or she is there to listen and give advice if you feel you can't cope with a situation or problem.

A judge is a person who makes decisions about what is best for you. He or she will take into account your opinion and wishes and will inform you about where you shall live and what you will do in the near future.

A youth lawyer and a legal expert are persons who make sure that you know about your rights and that your rights are respected.

A trusted adult is a person you can turn to with any problems or questions.

A guardian is a person who takes care of you and makes sure you are safe and protected.

An interpreter and a cultural mediator are persons who speak your language. They help you understand what other people say in their language and talk to them
