

Students must receive specific training from the Laboratory Manager in order to use compressed gas or cryogenic liquid cylinders.

Training must be documented.

For information, see the Chemical Laboratory Safety Manual.